TALK OF THE TOWN

Vote for W. K. Farnsworth of Rutland for secretary of state at Tuesday's primaries.—adv.

This is the winter to conserve coal and have servant trouble by letting us take care of you at Hotel Barre. J. V. Rowan, manager.

Additional stars will be dedicated tomorrow on the service flag of the Church of the Good Shepherd and St. John the Baptist's church in Webstersville.

James Leve, Jr., of Hill street, began to-day a vacation of a month from his duties at the Barre postoffice and will spend a part of the time with friends in Massachusetts.

Eddie Barr, Jr., and Aginaldo Barr of Hardwick have arrived in the city and will enroll as students at Spaulding high school, when the sessions are resumed Tuesday morning.

Thomas Clark of Boston, who is visiting his brother, Philip Clark, in Graniteville, called on friends in the city yesterday. Several years ago Mr. Clark was a resident of Graniteville. He returns home Monday.

Mrs. Ashton E. Holt of Eastern avenue has been elected supervisor of music in the Montpelier public schools and will assume her duties next week. For a few years past Mrs. Holt has been an assistant to the supervisor of music in the Barre schools.

Frank C. Turner of South Main street returned to-day from Hartford, Conn., where he has been visiting his son and daughter, Ralph C. Turner, and Mrs. Forest Cram. During his absence Mr. Turner was an interested spectator at the grand circuit races at Charter Oak park.

Some of the 6,000,000 soldiers' letters which one trans-Atlantic liner recently brought to America arrived in Barre yesterday to gladden the hearts of mothers, sweethearts, brothers, sisters and other relatives. The mails during the day carried to many a door the letter that anxious kinsfolk have been expecting.

Dinner guests of Mrs. E. C. Colby of Washington street Thursday were her son, C. M. Colby and wife of East Orange, Henry McGrills of West Topham, Miss Caroline E. Dearborn of Bellows Falls, whose age is 90 years and five months, but who is very remarkable mentally and physically for one of her years, and Miss Jennie Tillotson of Morrisville, who remained over night.

The civic department of the Barre Woman's club has started a campaign to raise funds to support the district nurse. Contribution papers are in the hands of a number of solicitors and in several stores. Everyone is expected to give something. No sum is too small and large amounts will be duly appreciated. The district nurse has been working with us a year and has proved a necessity.

Two Brookfield men, alleged to have disposed of a stolen cow hide to a North Main street buyer, recently figured in justice court proceedings in Randolph, where, upon being advised by Judge Justice of the Peace E. F. Briggs, the defendants resolved to carry an appeal to county court. No evidence was submitted by Walter Banister and Lewis Chadbourne, who are the defendants in a $200 damage suit brought by Emery Smith, who claims that a cow was stolen and killed and the pelt disposed of to a local marketman. M. M. Wilson of Bethel appears for the plaintiff and the defendants are represented by A. A. Sargent of Barre.

Hebrews hereabouts are observing the Jewish New Year, which began yesterday at sundown and is to continue until Sunday evening. The occasion marks the beginning of the Jewish year 5679. The faithful in Barre and vicinity, being without the services of a resident rabbi, are well represented through the week end in Burlington, where synagogue services which began with the inception of the feast will not terminate wholly until the New Year's festival is over. A number of Barre Hebrews plan to go to Montpelier this evening, where special services are held in Odd Fellows' hall. Jews throughout the orthodox world participate in the observance and in military camps and cantonments, where Jewish boys are with the colors they are given furloughs.

To-morrow will be the second "grassless" Sunday since the fuel administration made its request that Sunday motoring be confined to riding that is essential. Although in a number of New England towns—as for instance in Bellows Falls—the police made a practice of stopping motorists a week ago, the authorities here, mindful of the fact that the fuel administrator requested and did not order, did not interfere with people who were abroad in autos. Yet they glanced more than casually at passing cars and in some instances they were pretty well satisfied that the motoring was not necessary. However, pedestrians, people out for Sunday strolls, gave the H-unpatriots their greatest annoyance. It was nothing for one of them to be greeted with queries as to whether they had a seat for the Kaiser, and other sallies quite as pointed were not uncommon. Perhaps there are not a few who rode last Sunday who will prefer to stay at home to-morrow, and in any event, a very large proportion of motorists will continue cheerfully to comply with Mr. Garfield's request.

Our 26th Anniversary Sale

Continued Saturday, Sept. 7th

In the face of high prices and every prospect of still higher, we cannot afford financially to hold this sale. In another way we cannot afford to drop this annual sale, that has given us such good advertising for the past 26 years.

You are surely posted on the very big advance of all Dry Goods since the United States entered this war, and you can very quickly see that the following goods are as great bargains as have ever gone out of this store.

Saturday Special Anniversary Sale

For Saturday we will continue our Anniversary Sale of the three previous days. This gives you a chance to get some of the values left from the three days' Anniversary Sale, at a good saving to you.

For this one day you can buy what was left in Ladies' White Outing Flannel Robes at less than you will pay for the Outing alone.

These are an extra fine quality White Flannel Robe, made large and full. Is worth to-day at least $2.00 each. For this one day only, $1.49 each.

There are a few Gray Cotton Blankets left in sizes 68x86 inches. These are a Single Blanket in a good weight. For this one day only, $1.39 each.

What we have left from the special sale of All-Wool Serges from the Thursday sale will go in for this one day at $1.49 per yard.

These are a cloth that it is almost impossible to get to-day at any price. We bought these a long time ago, and they are worth to-day from $1.75 to $2.00 per yard. Are in Black and colors and are an extra good buy at only $1.49 per yard.

We are also selling a yard-wide Silk Messaline in a quality that is worth $2.25 per yard, for this one day at only $1.79 per yard.

We will also give you special prices on all Dress Goods and Silks for this one Saturday.

What there are left from our Friday's Special Sale will go into this Special Saturday Sale. This is a chance to get some extra good values in Dresses and Furs and Fur Coats.

If there are any of the Suit Cases left, they will sell for Saturday at the special price of $1.49 each. These are a good quality Imitation Leather Suit Case, with brass lock and drop clasp. Are worth $1.98 each.

In Wool and Silk Dresses we will give you the special offer of a 10 per cent discount and make the alterations. Here you will find some real Dress values before the discount is made on them.

What there are left of the odd pieces of Fur Neck Pieces will be closed out on this one day at only one-half the original price.

We will also give you the special prices on all Furs and Fur Coats.

HE DID HIS DUTY WELL.

Mrs. Hugh Henry Hears from Officer Concerning Her Son's Death.

Mrs. Hugh Henry of North Fayston has received from Second Lieutenant Charles Bennett, now at Durham, N. H., a letter regarding her son, Ralph, who died from wounds on a battlefield in France, which is as follows:

"Your son, Harold, who is a member of the company to which I was attached before receiving orders to return, asked me to write to you and tell you what I could of the sad news about Ralph."

"He was acting as a driver, as was Harold, and they were two of the best drivers we had. The whole company was coming out of the lines and was just getting into the cars when about three shells landed right in the midst of us."

"There were about 12 men wounded by the flying pieces and it was so dark that it was hard to see who was hit and who was not. A lieutenant was near Ralph, and with the aid of a medical man, tried to bind the wound and get him to a dressing station. However, his wound was in the jugular vein and he died in a very short time. I believe that he did not suffer very much, because that kind of a wound is so vital that it is soon over. He was well loved and mourned for by us all.

"I took four of our Vermont boys and we laid him to rest with a cross of wood and his identification tag on it to mark the place."

"It is hard to make such sacrifices, but the cause is just. You should be proud to remember that his lieutenant says that he was always willing to do his duty and he did it well. His troubles are over and he is in God's hands."

"Harold was looking and feeling fine Aug. 5 when I left."

"With deepest sympathy,
"Charles Bennett, 2d Lieut. U. S. A."
